

JOIN THE BRUCE PENINSULA ENVIRONMENT GROUP TODAY!

Since 1989, BPEG, a non-profit public interest group, has been committed to:

Preserving the unique ecology of the Bruce Peninsula.

Promoting greater awareness of the region's diverse flora, fauna, geology and cultural history.

Monitoring human impact on the Peninsula - a designated UNESCO World Biosphere Reserve.

We subscribe to the concepts of sustainable development and community-based solutions.

Four Types of Membership are available:

Individual: A personal membership for only $15 per year.

Family: Ideal for a couple and children up to 12 years of age - $25 per year.

Youth/Student: A FREE Membership for young people between the ages of 13 and 17.

Group: For organizations and associations supporting the work of BPEG - $25 per year.

Donations are also welcome and along with membership fees they support:

Monthly meetings, which are open to members and the general public.

Publishing informative newsletters and pamphlets.

Building and maintaining the group's Website, Resource Centre and Archives.
